The subconscious mind, energy harvesting & how to manifest success from both these sources.

This is a nice juicy one tonight, not only esoteric, but practical for everybody to apply to their own reality.

Let's begin, with the subconscious mind.

THREAD

This is where all the data is stored. Yeah, all of it, the subconscious mind is the place where all the information comes from that controls your conscious mind. People forget this key fact, then end up with a shitty life. This part of your mind must be controlled very closely.

It can be like a crazy & wild like an out of control wasp or little hyperactive puppy.....

IF you allow it to run riot inside your mind.

It's so powerful it actually manifests your subjective reality for you. So pay close attention to it and feed it the correct information.

This is why every single company in the world, big and small, spends BILLIONS per year on advertising.

They don't do it for nothing, they do it because it WORKS. Yes, you see, if "Coca Cola" for example, stopped advertising, they would suffer a huge loss in sales

As people would not have the subconscious awareness of the product, to go and buy it.

This is how advertising works - very simple.

People are shown a product via some media outlet (TV is the most popular)

The person then has the image and name of the brand planted

Into their subconscious mind.

At a later date, the person recalls this image and brand then decides "they" want to buy it.

The conscious mind thinks, that "they" as a person made this decision.

They never, they were programmed to make this decision

Manipulated via proxy.

The option was put into their main data bank and stored away for future use.

It works so well, these companies keep spending more and more on it, each and every year.

It is a form of programming.

You can program yourself too.

Negative self-talk is the most common. See when you're having a bad day and feeling shit and getting emotional? I bet you start saying things like this to yourself with loads of anger & pain "What is the fucking point?" "I hate this fucking place"

"I'm so sick of him or her" "I just want to get away from here" etc etc

You can relate yeah? I hope you understand, when you say these things with lots of emotional energy, your subconscious mind, remembers it ALL. It is all stored, so don't think those nasty internal chats

You have been having with yourself won't have an impact just because you never said it out loud, they do, and they have a seriously BAD effect on your life.

How to combat this? Have you ever been about to do something daunting? i.e speak in front of a large crowd?

Then your negative self talk kicks in and says

"Your gonna suck at this"

As soon as this happens you need to reply "I'm going to nail this, and everybody will be applauding after I speak"

Chances are in reality, this will allow you to meet somewhere in the middle.

But if you just let the negative self-talk win, you will perform shit and look bad.

So get in control of these two areas now -

1. Curate your external programming (TV, News, shit media etc)
2. Negative self-talk (replace with confident, positive, even cocky & arrogant)

If you can do these two basic steps, you will be much happier and successful.

The subconscious is KEY to setting your mind free.

Your conscious mind, is the slave to the subconscious.

So be a better MASTER to yourself!

Energy Harvesting -

This a VERY occult topic.

How do we harvest the energy of others?

Energy is not created, it is not destroyed, it simply moves from one point, to another.

It transfers its point of attention.

You can train yourself to absorb this from others. It can be good or bad energy you receive, how it affects you, is completely up to you. This is an advanced tactic, don't try this if you're still struggling with negative self-talk or you still watch lots of mainstream news etc

Only advanced level sages can do this shit. It's pretty easy once you know-how. You simply allow ALL energy from everybody you know to be absorbed by you at a metaphysical level. Then (as long as you are emotionally stable)

Convert this energy into good positive energy for your own use. You basically become what I call an "Energy filter" you change negative or positive energy into stronger energy, then, direct it back into what you wish to do. Negative energy (hate, jealousy, envy greed) Is more potent, therefore, you can get more bang for your buck.

The well-known rapper 50 cent, had a lyric in one of his old tracks that said "I need you to hate me, so I can use you for your energy" I think the song was named "Hustlers ambition"

It's very effective if you have the correct mindset.

But beware, if you are fragile you can be overwhelmed by this negative energy and it will fuck you up more than it helps you.

Gotta be thick-skinned.

Some people I know are MASTER VAMPIRES of this and do it very well. I can do it also, but I don't do it as often as I could.

Because as an artist, I try and keep my "Energy Filter" clean as possible because like any other filters, after so many uses, it will become clogged up and then it needs a deep cleanse to make it work again. But, I do recommend you try this, if you have a solid mind.

Thanks for reading again all. I hope you learned something of value and remember to be a better master to your self and use the haters' sly comments and shitty attitude to your advantage!

END THREAD.
