Review of covert think tanks, secret societies and how they influence society

THREAD -

As I'm sure you are all aware, things on planet earth just now are a little bit crazy, let's discuss what influence different think tanks & secret societies have on this current situation -

The Fabian Society - This is a UK based leftist think tank, as you can tell from their original and very wicked logo (wolf in sheep's clothing) Their intentions are most likely not good. This group invented the concept of communism/socialism. The author George Orwell was a member along with several other prominent politicians such as ex PM's of the UK Tony Blair & Gordon Brown. Their communist ideology was first implemented in Russia and lead to the Bolshevik Revolution and all the horrors that followed it afterward. The Fabian Society is still active -

Today and is very influential in steering political policy of the left in the UK and the world at large, the damage they have done since 1884 is very understated by many. They have serious clout and are not to be ignored. They also promote eugenics.

The Freemasons, the concept of this ancient society goes back to the mystery schools of ancient Egypt and possibly even further back to Babylon & Atlantis. In ancient times the ruling priesthood classes knew secret knowledge but only wanted to teach the chosen few these secrets.

Membership was limited to the select few and it was actually a very inclusive and secret club. These days they don't actually yield much influence or power on the world stage but their membership consists of several notable ex-presidents and other high ranking officials -

The Templar Knights who were on the run from the Vatican church on their journey back from the middle east crusades managed to escape mainland Europe to Scotland - There they set up The mother Lodge Number 0 in a place named Kilwinning in the year 1140.

After the formation of the Bavarian Illuminati in 1776, the jacobine illuminists used the Freemasonic lodges that were operating in Germany and all over Europe to spread their Luciferian doctrine and they basically took over the organization and used it to gain influence.

Every single country was eventually subverted by this group and still to this very day, hold great power and influence across the globe. George Washington wrote letters about this at the time which you can find at the national library of congress.

The Skull & Bones Society - This fraternity that operates out of Ivy League college Yale are another mysterious group whose membership boasts several prominent members such as G HW Bush & his son GW Bush

Membership is invitation only and they only select people from Yale who come from the most affluent backgrounds. The rituals they do are very satanic and include mock possessions, sacrifices, and the final initiation is allegedly getting into a huge vat of feces and then having homosexual sex with each other, it's a male-only fraternity like the Freemasons. They are still active and I am sure they will churn out many more world leaders in the future.

The Bilderberg group - This group holds serious clout in world politics. After their formation in 1954, they have influence and steered major world political decisions ever since. They meet once per year in a secret location.

They are said to be kingmakers and many politicians including Barrack Obama, Bill Clinton & Tony Blair all attended these meetings in the same year they were elected as leaders of their respective nations. In recent years their meeting locations have been leaked by the likes of Alex Jones, David Icke, and other alternative media figures. I attended the protest against them in Watford in 2013. I believe they still hold major power and clout as all the top bankers, media, and industry moguls still attend their meetings each year. Due to public kickback

They no longer hold quite as much power, but they are still dictating world policy to some degree today and they are a group you should look into more deeply. They came up with the idea of the European Union and a single currency for the block.

I could list several groups and go deeper but I wish to make this point now considering the mass unrest we are seeing in the world today. These people who are out rioting and protesting, getting angry, are so ignorant to the facts, they have no idea what they are actually doing

The ruling class and members of the above groups are complete MASTERS of SUBVERSION - They are highly skilled at fooling people and getting the masses to react however they see fit. People need to understand this - the end game is a one-world government, currency, and military.

They are playing us all for fools, using the simple divide and conquer methods that have served them so well throughout history. They control the mainstream media narratives and this is what drives the ignorant masses to lash out, time and time again.

They are Luciferian at their core and want to implement the true doctrine of Lucifer on the planet - If we don't see past their silly mind games and illusions, they will succeed and the future will not be pretty. END THREAD
