Honestly, how mad is this reality? We are pure expressions of energy contained inside very complex biological robots made out of meat. Our brains are computers/energy filter devices that literally make a holographic world appear, and even feel solid.

THREAD

We can create solid objects in a non-solid world, we can manifest physical reality by programming the subconscious software. We are all very high tech creatures with LIMITLESS potential. So much energy, genius and wisdom all wrapped into one. How can you ever feel down? or sad?

Just take a step back. Look around you, all that activity, all that nature, all those mountains, all those buildings, EVERYTHING is an illusion, everything is a holographic projection that only exists in a tiny little space inside your little round heads!

We are everything and nothing at the same time. We are darkness and light co-existing, we are the alpha and omega all together. We are the summer sun and winter rain. We make it all real. We are all super genius producers by DEFAULT.

So please dont feel hopeless or down, sure the world we perceive to be real is far from perfect and could be a lot better, but at the same time, its all a matter of perception because it's not even a physical world, it's a holographic universe and a holographic world!

What I like to remind myself is, this shit is never going to end. Death is the biggest scam out there. There is no such thing, so don't expect an ending where you get to "Rest in peace" You won't be resting anywhere, you will go on and on forever! You may manifest in another body and start all over again, or you may go elsewhere on your journey through the space-time continuum but there is no endpoint or safe haven.

THE BATTLE BETWEEN GOOD AND EVIL IS ETERNAL, ONCE WE DEFEAT THE CABAL IN THIS DIMENSION, WE TAKE THE FIGHT TO THEM ON THE NEXT LEVEL!

Because we are the good and evil, we are simply just testing ourselves against our very own nature.

The all-seeing eye is YOU.

If you pan out from an all-seeing eye. You will not see the Devil or God staring back at you, only your own face!

With a very cheeky grin! AHAHA

You are the be-all and end-all

You are the problem & solution to every single issue you believe you have.

The universe revolves around your perception, not the other way around.

Seeing is not believing, believing is seeing (ALL INVERTED)

WIN WIN WIN WIN WIN WIN WIN WIN WIN WIN

You may feel like just a little drop in the ocean, but the truth is, you are the whole entire ocean. Now, ride the metaphysical waves of reality and surf through this dream we call life. Glide the water like a great white shark. Hunting for a better existence.

Love & hate, fear & happiness, pain & pleasure, night & day.

It comes from the same source, the same point of attention. Its all energy, that can be converted into something else. This is alchemy.

All the answers will come from within.

When you obtain enough wisdom, you will find the biggest secret out there.

There is no answer, only more questions.

No endpoint, no conclusion, on and on, you must go.

The journey is the destination!

Seek contentment as you are.

For many years I was depressed with a head full of bumbles Bees. Dwelling on the past, dreading the future. Caught up in the spiders complex web of illusions. Its just a big trap. A grand mind game of epic proportions. But you cut yourself out the Web. You put yourself into it.

By believing the lie that your somehow caught up in the fallacy of time. I know it all seems so "real" , but it's not. This is a life of illusion and nothing more. It could be considered the ultimate practical joke. Learn to laugh at it. Laugh at yourself and how serious you are.
